

Prostate Cancer Foundation Women in Science Forum

PCF Women in Science Forum

October 26, 2018

*Omni La Costa Resort
Carlsbad, California*

Location: Poinsettia 2 & 3

Organizers: Himisha Beltran, MD (Harvard: Dana Farber Cancer Institute), Lorelei Mucci, ScD (Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health), Karen Knudsen, PhD (Thomas Jefferson University)

Overview: This is a half-day networking event for PCF women in conjunction with the October 2018 Scientific Retreat. This third annual event is open to all women and men attending the PCF Scientific Retreat, both junior and senior and across the disciplines of basic science, medicine, and population science. The goals are to create a network of PCF women, to team build through discussion and social events, to ensure a strong pipeline of female prostate cancer researchers and clinicians, and identify opportunities for further training, mentoring and synergy of a stellar network of female prostate cancer researchers and clinicians.
